Dealing with the Editor

Response letter

OUTLINE

Scientific paper?

Why?

To share your own original research data with world wide scientists and get the rank higher.

How?

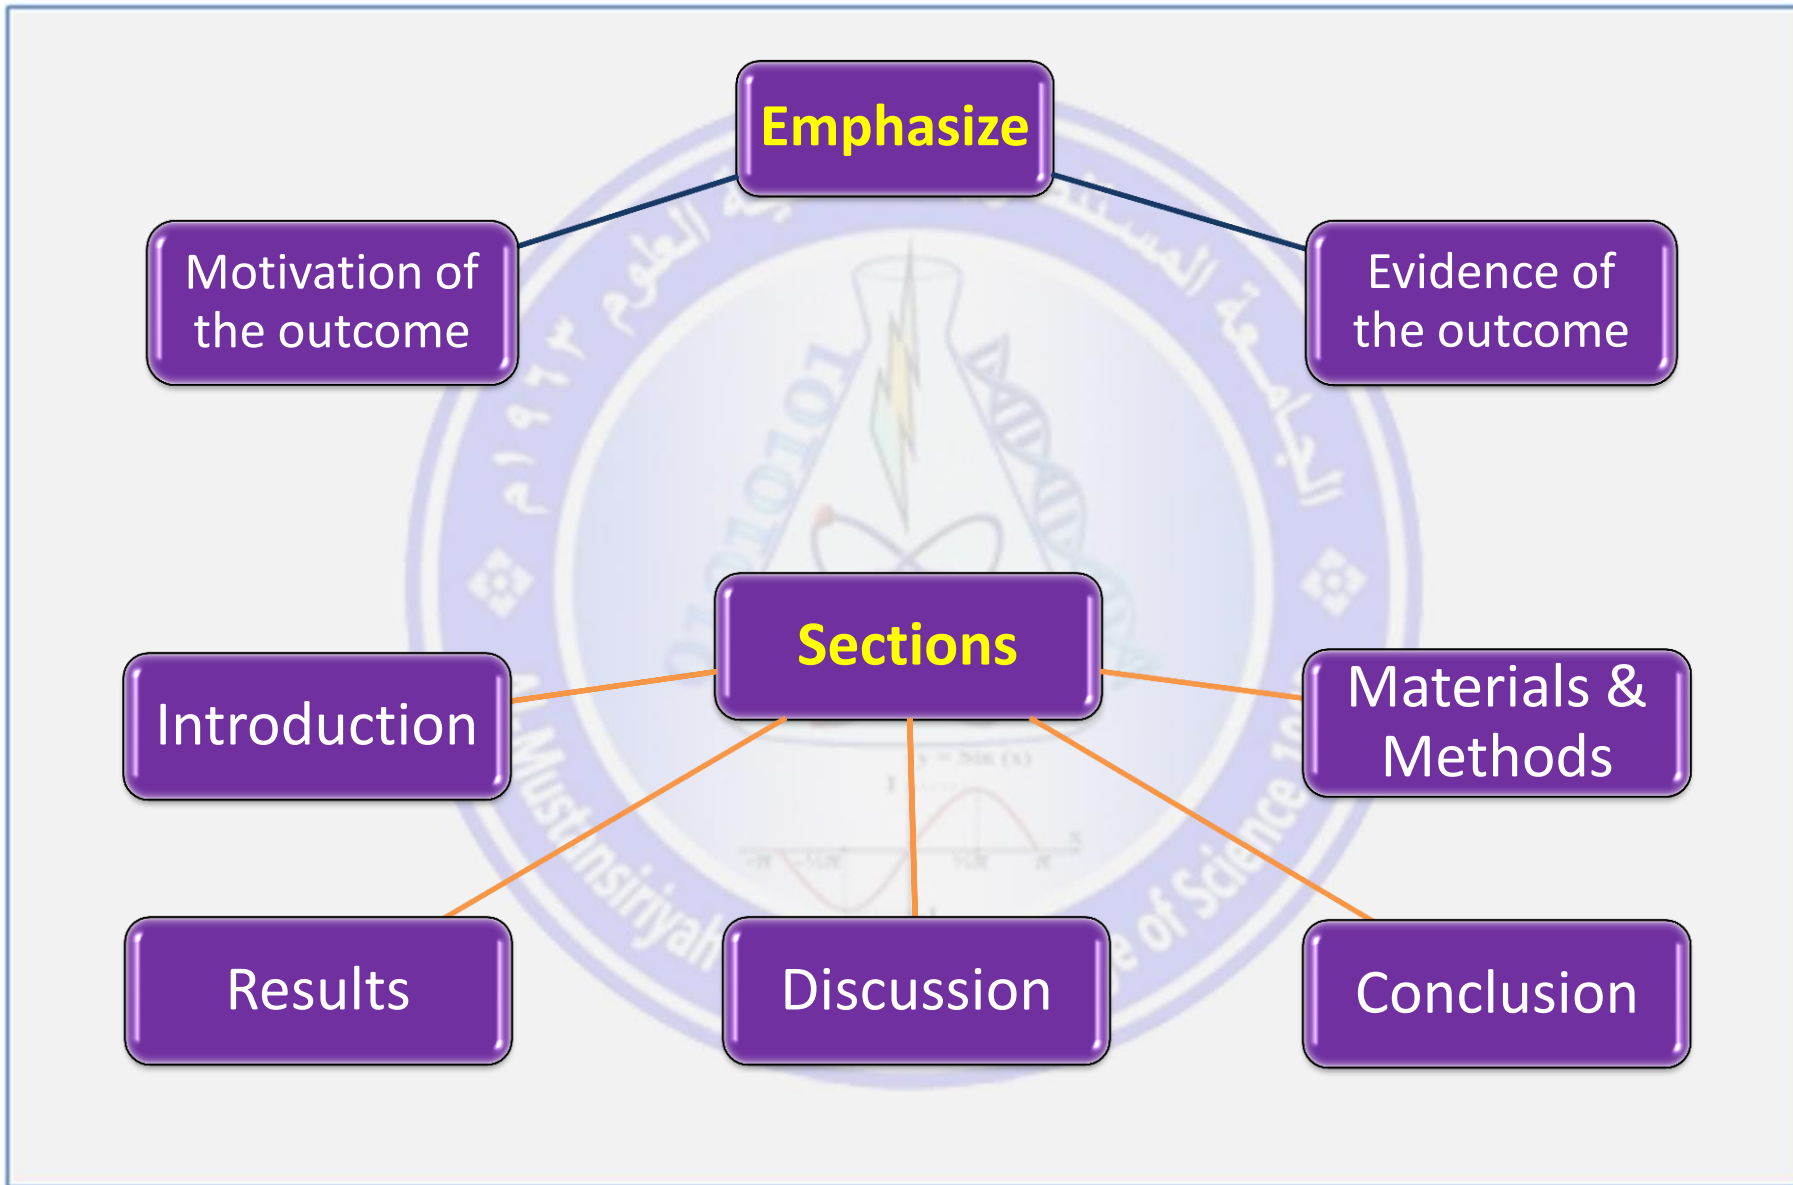

Must be highly readable that is, clear, accurate, novel and concise.

For!

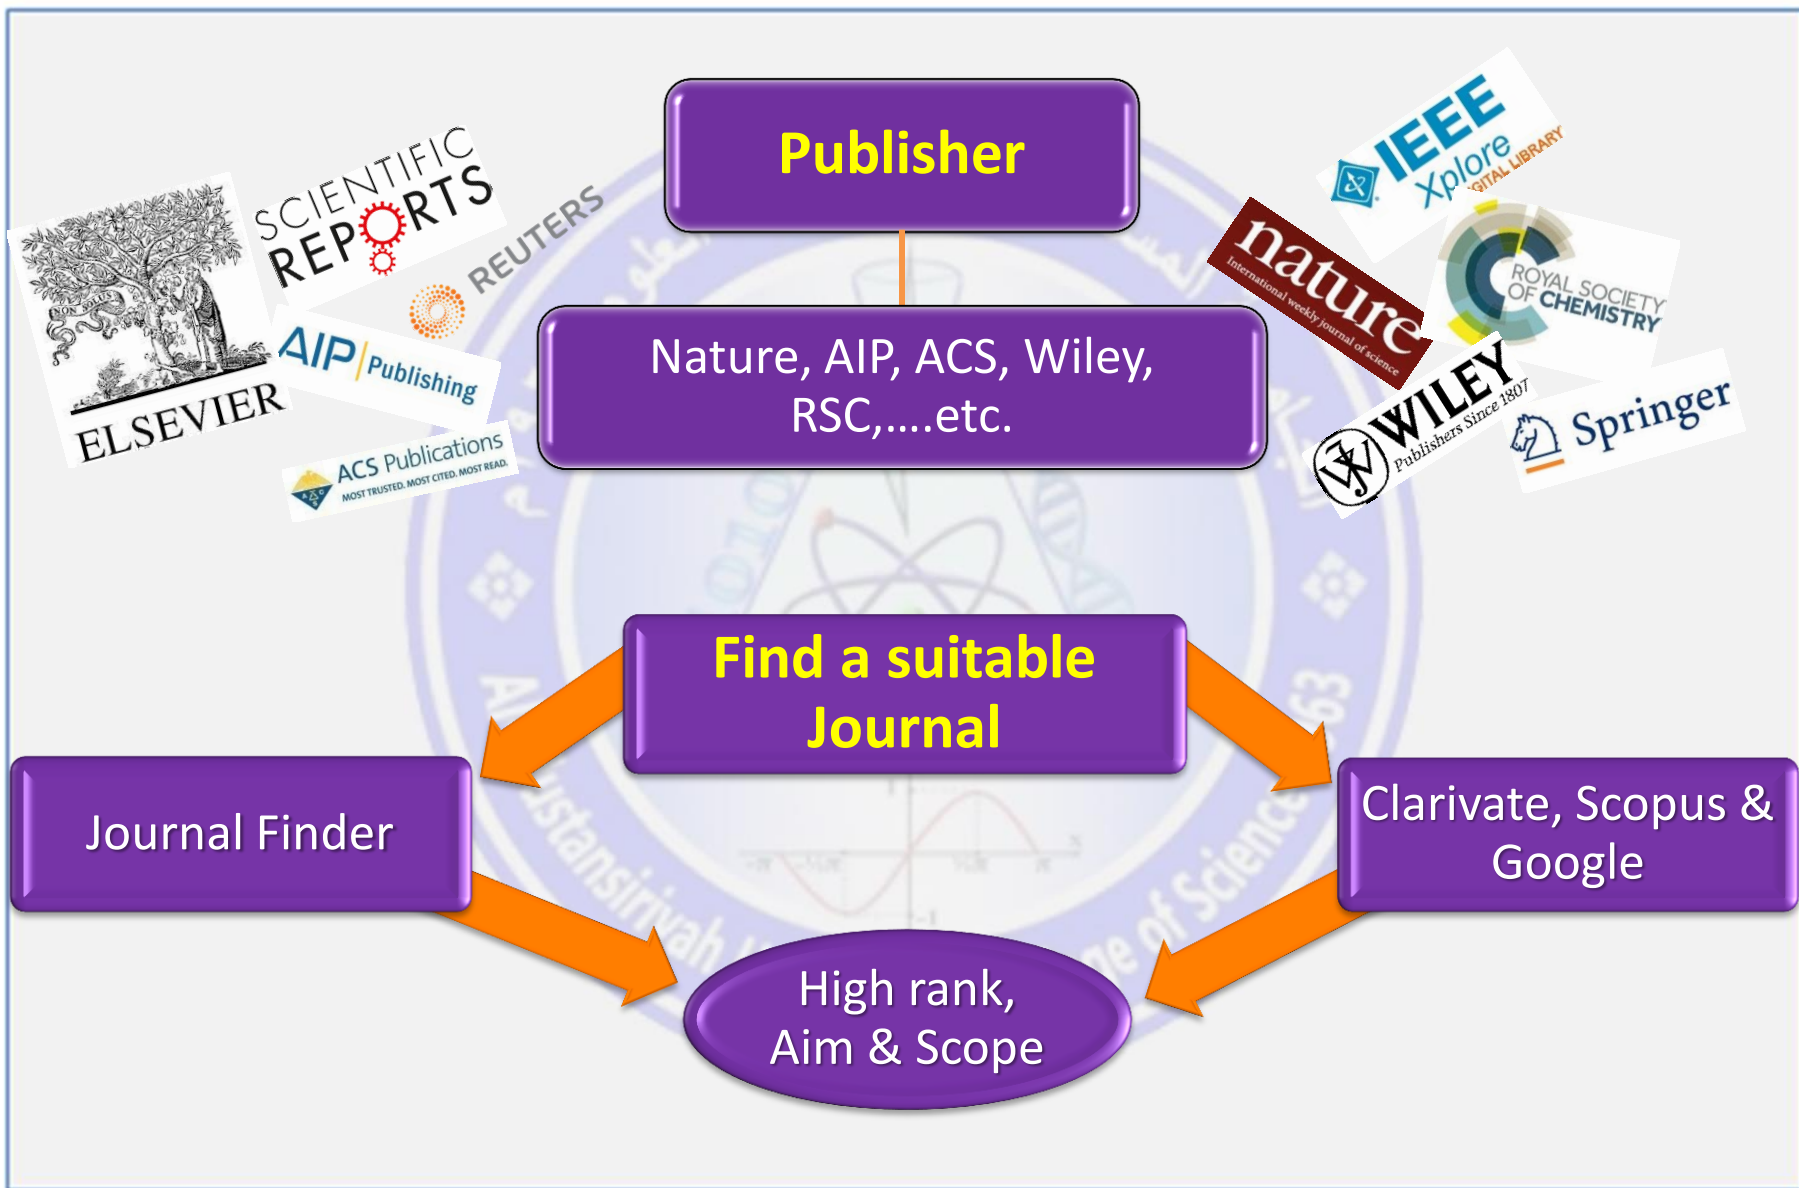

To be cited by other scientists if they are helpful rather than cryptic or self-centered.

How could select the journal for your manuscript?

Submitting your manuscript...

Your manuscript and any supporting material (solutions manual, test bank, etc.) should be submitted electronically. There is no need to submit a hard copy unless your project editor advises you to do so.

If your manuscript contains special characters, equations or any precise formatting that needs to be retained, please submit a PDF of your manuscript for reference in addition to an editable version.

Your project editor will advise you as to the appropriate method of submission. Possible methods include, but are not limited to:

- Email: Please advise your project editor of the specific files to be submitted and request a receipt.
- Wiley's ftp site: Your project editor will provide you with the ftp site and instructions.
- An ftp site: Your project editor will provide you with the ftp site and instructions.

...with book title and editor/author name.

To reviewer 1:

1. One minor comment is that the presented data (figs 1, 3, 4) concern only 2D close-packed (hexagonal) arrays. Please elaborate if it would also be possible to make other symmetries. That would even broaden the applicability of this approach further.

Author reply:

We highly appreciate this comment. In fact, it is totally possible
