ABSTRACT

The subject of the thesis gives special prominence to some aspects of the scholarly personality of professor Kamal Ibrahim, who was one of the most eminent linguists of modern Iraq. He died in 21/6/1973.

The present study is composed of an introduction, three chapters and a lexical annex. The introduction covers his life and books.

Chapter one, which is subdivided into three sections, deals with his methodical work as well as the factors affecting it.

Chapter two, also subdivided into three sections, explains in detail his efforts in Arabic morphology.

Chapter three, provides an outline of his attempt on the proper usage of Arabic. It is subdivided into two sections.

The thesis contains a conclusion of the results of the study together with a list of sources and references.
