This research is an important study in Arabic Language. It is the connection subject. I tried in this research to know the reasons behind the varieties between the earlier and latest either in discussion or in the researches which appeared at that time which called are legions times. My research isn't only a book but it draws attention to the role of writer and how must the writer be then he tries to write about a science among different sciences.

Through my research I found out that the time between us and our ancestors has played an effective role to develop explanation ways but it completely changed them. So we can see many directions appeared either in explanation meaning or on studies level which arised from time to time. This research also focused on the importance of a huge numbers of poets, writer, speaker and the importance of aims and concepts in Holy Quran and how can we keep on these aim and concepts by working hard and avoid to loss our heritage.

The research consists of introduction , facilitation and three chapter. First chapter studies the denominative connections and how these connections have played a great role to give the meaning. Second chapter studied literally connections. Third chapter was a theoretical study to the connections according to use or neclect. While in conculation I focused on the results which came out from my research about the secrets behind the varieties in explanation in scientific researches which came after equotating from Arabic text. I also advised the educated how should he be careful in his explanations which used during his research.
