This study tackles an important of the literary structure of Ibi AL – Aala Al – Maari that is legend which is regarded of the library important elements of the prosaic structures .

Legend: is a from of the forms of the human knowledge and a pattern of the human thinking patterns in its first ages. It represents the first forms of meditation and the interpretation of existence that govern it.

The study is made up of an introduction, preface: in which the concept of legend and its relation with literature genre was illustrated.

The study contained two sections: the first in which we tackled types of legends that Ibi AL - Aala Al - Maari employed in his literary samples (poetic and prosaic), also these texts were analyses carefully.

I have ended this reserch with an open conclusion including its Finil results .
