

Playing a game of Bear and Squirrel:

They used to play a game of being animals to one another. Through playing this game, Jimmy can express his emotion in wild animalistic ways. By taking on the persona of these animals, they both are able to have uncomplicated affection for each other. They can truly love each other as they completely detach themselves from the hard world. The conditions of their real lives are too much to bear. They cannot bear the difficult and harsh circumstances in which they live. This game offers them a time to retreat into childishness. So this game is the only way they used to get rid of all their sufferings in life. Both understand that the only way to escape the suffering of the real world is to create a fantasy world.