Abstract

This study always look after for all the meaning especially develop grammatical structures in holy Qoran, and context analysis all details pronunciations that include in sent Metophor, to reduce and discovery all forming then the relations between relate formation and structures or rebuild together also trying to interpret or explanation all kinds of these pronunciation structures on the basis of meaning and general context. These structure deals with to be reinforces in all pronunciation details. On the other hand it was concerning to the control relations and steady structures or prevailing structures and all the style or rangs that to be influenced for all relations with each other Metophor. In fact it is called criterions, painted all study sections, although the research was trying to explanation clearly the prevailing relations as if development this study to be participated for replay philology Arabic reading ansimilar level depend on descriptive level & analysis and application.

The study be careful to development and progress about understood this structure.

As it regarding anew terms different for any structure term which it gives the search some thing of a kind proprieties and principles as well as creation and invention.

The study was depended on the application curriculum to create this system with out do any change for details in theoretical portative to be abalance as well as to be emphasis on the historical curriculum and descriptive analysis application.

The study to be mentioned introduction and preface and eight sections beside conclusion.

The mast importance results are arrived it, describe holy Qoran structure establish on statistics and reading and exchange the follower form the depth structures to the surface with out negate any dictionary meaning and how to influenced of detail not to pass to lean on Qoran it self. For the sake of arrived to the depth meaning which is called explanatory circulum for depend on it. Beside to these things that the study arrived to the fact so Metophor falls in ways.

There are two difference attitude on the basis of different directions, if any direction expand with in that begin in circle fact Metophor and the invert is true.

To effect logical division as it extended the fact and Metophor until outing in to the balance. That creation begin and to break that is begin secondary order but it was going outside the circle understood. This fact presentation of the first work which keep it in dictionary. So another was inside with Metaphor that establish for investigate the effect and invention and passed unusually after leaving the dictionary meaning. That it was formatting the placement to the logical division, so we suggest four forms as it include these facts. Well the study indicated to the environment influence clearly to activation Metaphor in each other or opposite side.

The study appears the conforms that wrote perfect between the user pronunciation in some relation and the general meaning or system which is regard the perfect between the article and context.

The study tried on a period time to record the grammatical structure which is basis of the Metaphor relations that it came and appeared that relations Metaphor.

That study achieved all the pleasant Metaphor which included the historical circle and application for advance analysis which related in heritage and contemporary and Modern together.
